Baled hay is being shipped from Dawson. There was a great deal put up there this fall, although in June the ranchmen and farmers thought the hay question was one they could not solve this year, as the prairies were as bare and dry in appearance as now.

"Human Hearts" will be the next attraction at the opera house. The play is a melodrama and is under the management of W. E. Nankerville who also manages Haverly's Mastodon Minstrels. The theme is said to be very pretty. The play will be given Nov. 1.

A freight car loaded with flour was derailed on the main tracks of the Northern Pacific near Tappen last evening and occasioned considerable delay to trains, the eastbound not arriving until about 11 o'clock. The flour had to be transferred from the car before it could be placed on the track again. Fortunately a Dago crew was available and they were put to work at once.

The registration places in all the wards were open today. Another opportunity will be given voters next Tuesday and those whose names do not appear on the lists election day will be compelled to swear their votes. It is given out that ladies must register as well as men—that is those who desire to vote for superintendent of schools. A number of voters who have moved recently from one ward to another are realizing now that by so doing they have lost the right to vote this year.

Seldom has there been a minstrel performance at the opera house which pleased so many as did Haverly's Mastodon Minstrels last night. The show was good from start to finish. There were plenty of specialists, dancers, song and dance men and soloists. George Wilson in his monologue and burlesque political speech was one of the most amusing features. He made a hit and was repeatedly encored. Some musical specialties, new and pleasing, were introduced by Gordon and Hunt. The jokes were all new.

The Northern Pacific has received advices from Chicago that 603 cars of the order of 1,000 steel box construction placed some time ago with the American Pressed Steel company had arrived in the windy city and been turned over to the different Chicago St. Paul lines to be brought to the twin cities. The Northern Pacific contracted to take west to Montana from Pittsburg, 7,500 tons of coke to be used for smelting purposes. This is being transported in the new steel box cars and will be taken directly through to its destination.

The insanity board met today and considered the case of Chas. W. Darling. Chief Wink and others testified. Mr. Wink said he called at the Darling residence about a week ago and found him sitting in the kitchen. The chief was sent to secure three revolvers which Darling had in his possession and found the same on the table near Darling's bed. Darling protested when Mr. Wink told him he was going to take the revolvers away. He asked the chief to leave him the smaller one. Chief Wink was of the opinion that Darling's brain was affected by his illness. The board of insanity decided to adjourn for a month to await developments. In the meantime Darling is being looked after by Josiah Pierson.

In the Northern Pacific motive department it is said that the electric lighted trains will be discontinued when the proposed winter train service goes into effect, next Sunday, or soon after, as the case may be, for the reason that the electric light service is rather an expensive luxury. A prominent official says that the service on the North Coast Limited trains costs about $15,000 a year. The item of labor alone reaches into large figures. The service, as it is now, requires a force of ten experienced electricians to travel on the trains to care for the system, and as they get $1,000 a year each, that item alone amounts to $10,000 a year. Then there is maintenance and wear and tear. The management of the road says that the average volume of winter business will not warrant the expenditure for electric lights on the trains, however much the company would like to have it continued for the benefit of their patrons. The electric headlight will be continued.

Bismarck's Murder Mystery.

Bismarck Tribune: The coroner's jury in the case of Simon Welch held a meeting Monday afternoon and another Tuesday afternoon, finishing the official inquiry into the death of Welch. It will be remembered Mr. Welch was killed at his farm house several miles northeast of the city a few months ago, and his dead body was found there with a gunshot wound in the head. Robbery was the apparent motive for the crime, as Welch was believed to have had some money at his farm house. Suspicion was directed to Uric Chilkoff, an ex-convict who had been seen about Welch's place and disappeared shortly after the crime was discovered. He went north to a railroad camp and struck out from there, eluding the officers who pursued him. Recently a corpse was found near Williston, in an advanced stage of decomposition, which it was thought might be the body of Chilkoff. States Attorney Allen took steps to investigate but was unable to obtain much satisfaction from the authorities, and as the remains were so far decomposed that identification was practically impossible, it will probably never be learned whether the remains were or were not those of Chilkoff.

WOMAN

IS LIKE A DELICATE
MUSICAL INSTRUMENT

In good condition she is sweet and lovable, and sings life's song on a joyful harmonious string. Out of order or unstrung, there is discordance and unhappiness. Just as there is one key note to all music so there is one key note to health. A woman might as well try to fly without wings as to feel well and look well while the organs that make her a woman are weak or diseased. She must be healthy inside or she can't be healthy outside. There are thousands of women suffering silently all over the country. Mistaken modesty urges their silence. While there is nothing more admirable than a modest woman, health is of the first importance. Every other consideration should give way before it. Bradfield's Female Regulator is a medicine for women's ills. It is the safest and quickest way to cure leucorrhea, falling of the womb, nervousness, headache, backache and general weakness. You will be astonished at the result, especially if you have been experimenting with other so-called remedies. We are not asking you to try an uncertainty. Bradfield's Regulator has made happy thousands of women. What it has done for others it can do for you. Sold in drug stores for $1 a bottle.

A free illustrated book will be sent to all who write to THE BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., Atlanta, Ga.

WAS AN INVALID FOR MONTHS

Death of Mrs. Henry LaBrasche
Occurred Friday Night at the City Hospital.

At the city hospital Friday night at 11 o'clock occurred the death of Ester Olive, wife of Henry LaBrasche of Spiritwood lake. Mrs. LaBrasche had been an invalid for a number of months and had been in the city hospital for some months. The immediate cause of her demise was intestinal obstruction. Her death causes sorrow among all who knew her. She was a patient sufferer. Mr. LaBrasche was notified of his wife's condition last evening and arrived but an hour after her death.

Five children, three boys and two girls, are left to mourn Mrs. LaBrasche's death, as well as her husband. The oldest child is about thirteen years of age, and the youngest about four. Mrs. LaBrasche had resided at the lake for many years.

The funeral of Mrs. Henry LaBrasche took place Monday at Wimbledon and was attended by many friends of the deceased from Spiritwood Lake and elsewhere. Forty carriages were occupied by people who followed the remains to the church at Wimbledon. The services were conducted by two ministers.

Robbed His Sweetheart.

A domestic in the employ of Geo. A. Bangs of Grand Forks went out for a ride on her wheel and in her absence $80 was taken from her trunk. On her return she found her money was gone. The police were notified and Officer Sullivan, after talking with the girl, made up his mind Mike Allen, her sweetheart, might know something about the affair. He went after him and found him making for the Great Northern depot, and took him in custody. He had the $80 all right, and just 9 cents of his own, but explained that he had only taken it as a joke, and intended to return it. The authorities did not see the point and committed him to jail, awaiting an examination. It is stated that the girl may not appear against him as she recovered all of her money.

World Wide Reputation.

The fame of General W. D. Washburn's lignite coal enterprise has reached across the Atlantic. The Bismarck representative of Mr. Washburn has received a letter from Hugo Pizzotti, Turin, Italy, asking to be appointed European agent for the sale of the Washburn coal. Pizzotti is a merchant and a railway and government contractor. General Washburn's preparations for the development of the lignite industry continue steadily. An electric plant is now being installed, to mine coal by electricity. A number of miners' cottages are being built at Wilton, as well as a miners' boarding house. In the course of a year or so the settlement at Wilton will be largely a mining center.
